Miss Maury is not married to Rev. Mr. Tuckermann. She is not dead. Her engagement to the young minister was announced by him on Sept. 17 to the friends of the family gathered at the Maury residence to witness the marriage of Mr.

Miss Katherine Maury is quite a popular young lady in South St. Louis society. She is a sister of Miss Cornelia Maury, a well-known artist in the Studio Building. After the tornado Miss Maury caused her friends some perturbation, as she could not get to her house in South St. Louis or send word of her whereabouts for two days.

She was formerly a teacher at the Meramec School kindergarten, but for three years has been at the Isabella Crow kindergarten, adjoining St. Stephen's Mission.

Mr. Tuckermann is terribly upset over the matter and is bent on investigating. Accompanied by a Post-Dispatch reporter and Mr. Ludlow Maury, he visited the Globe-Democrat office Wednesday morning and saw the copy of the fraudulent death notice.

It had been sent in by mail with a dollar enclosed and was in a woman's hand.

BRYAN WILL ADDRESS THEM.

Workingmen's Club Will Hear the Democratic Nominee.

The Workingmen's Bryan Club at its meeting at 604 Market street Tuesday night received word that Hon. Wm. J. Bryan had accepted the invitation Bryan had accepted the invitation extended him to address the club when he comes here Oct. 3 to address the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

The Workingmen's Bryan Club, which now has a membership of 1/200, is a non-partisan body composed of nearly as many Republicans as Democrats, and for that reason it will not take part in the big parade during the convention of Democratic clubs.

parade during the convention of Democratic clubs.

Arrangements are being made by the Executive Committee of the club for a monster open air workingmen's free silver demonstration, independent of the Auditorium gathering, on the occasion of Mr. Bryan's visit. The 1,200 membership of the club will be in line, and at least twelve ward clubs will supplement the main organization at that time. The meeting will be free to all, and workingmen are especially invited to join the club and aid in making the event a notable evidence of the fact that workingmen are for Bryan and free sliver.

The Executive Committee meets Friday evening at 7:30 at 604 Market street. Representatives of labor organizations, who wish to take part, are invited to be present.

their fellows who had taken time to study the currency problem.

Never, perhaps, in the history of local politics has so much interest been indicated as was shown by the 4,000 people who there found seats and standing room. Outside the hall the streets were well filled with people who could not get in. There was a time limit of ten minutes on all of the speeches. The single gold standard advocates alternated with the men who spoke for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. All reference to any political party or candidate was carefully avoided, and the non-partisan programme was carfied out to the letter.

From the time the speakers came upon the platform it was evident that the spectators were in a great measure for free silver, and references to "goldbugs" as "friends of the workingman" invariably brought strong manifestations of disapproval.

The first speaker favored free silver, and wheal he referred to the necessity of restoring the wolte metal to the position it occupied previous to 1873 generous applause followed. It lasted a few seconds, waned and suddenly was taker up again, and from a low rumble of moving feet, it broke into tumultous applause.

Almost all of the speakers went beyond their allotted time, and were requested by Chairman Seth Lowe to give the next man a chance.

GOLD RESERVE.

Growing Fast and the Amount Already in Sight Will Bring It to $124,500,000.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Treasury Department has received information of the expected arrival to-morrow at San Francisco of $2,500,000 of English sovereigns, which will be deposited in the United States mint in that city in exchange for gold mint certificates, and these in turn will be deposited in exchange for currency to be paid to the importers in New York. This gold comes from Australia on the orders of New York bankers and brokers and comes via San Francisco, that being a shorter route than by way of Southampton. This shipment, added to amounts already re-ported in sight, will bring the reserve, up to about $124,500,000.

RELATIVES HEART-BROKEN

He Sympathizes With Them, but They Are as Strangers to Him and He Must Leave.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SANDUSKY, O., Sept. 23.—The Post-Dis patch recently published an article which attracted much attention concerning the strange mental condition of William E born and reared in this city, and who, after Elyria, O., wandered away and was finally found in St. Louis by his father, Elisha E Higgins of this city, and brought back to his home here.

Young Higgins did not know where his home was and could not remember eve having seen his own father when the two met in St. Louis. On the night of the arriva of the young man and his father in this city, the former was unable to remember that he had ever been here or that he had ever before met his own mother, brother and sisters. All his relatives and friends were as strangers to him.

He has been here now a little over two weeks, and he is still unable to convince himself that this was his former home, and that the persons of his own family are his nblage of New York workingmen. They relatives. The evidence that such are facts is, he admits, overwhelming, but he declares their fellows who had taken time to study that his mind is filled with vague, ill-de fined doubts. He can scarcely believe what he sees and hears as to his childhood life

The spirit of unrest is plainly upon young Higgins. He is dissatisfied here because he says he is among persons who are absolute strangers to him, and he longs to re-turn to St. Louis, where he has many friends and acquaintances. In conversation with a Post-Dispatch representative, the leave here to-day for St. Louis to resume

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 .- Capt. Cox of the British steamer Dulwitch, which has just arrived from Iloilo, Philippine Islands, via Delaware breakwater, reports an attemp of one of the ship's boys to poison all hands by putting vermilion paint in the coffee. Last Sunday morning, when the steam was lying inside Delaware Breakwate awaiting her orders to proceed, the cook, going suddenly into the galley from the deck, caught the ship's boy, Robert Peacock, acting in a very peculiar manner. Peacock, who is about 17 years old, had correspondent:

TO POISON THE CREW. Coffee-Pot.

And yet it is vouched for on authority as good as a banker's word.

A few days ago Col. Charles R. Parsons, high up in banking circles and with a prayer mat in the Mosque next to that of the "Butcher Knife Joss," went suddenly to Chicago. He was called there by Mark Hanna.

Ostensibly they were discussing the row among the Missouri Republicans.

Really the oleaginous Mark was softly telling Col. Parsons that the time had gome for the banks of St. Louis to add their mife to the "sound money" cause.

Peacock, who is about 17 years old, had been whipped the night before by Capt. Cox for stealing and lying.

The cook was suspicious and upon investigation found what appeared to be a lump of vermilion paint in the bottom of the pot, from which all hands were soon to be supplied with coffee for their breakfast. He at once reported the matter to the captain, who determined to turn the boy over to the authorities. His orders to sail were imperative, and he brought him along to this port.

Caufield and Miss Julia German, which was to have been solemnized at St. Luke's English Catholic Church, in Belleville, Tuesday morning, did not take place. Caufield was found unconscious in the trooms prepared for the reception of the product with all the symptoms of strychnine.

Eight o'clock was the hour for the cere mony, and as the nuptials were to be sol-emnized with impressive high mass, the audience room of the church was crowded with the relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

When the Germain family left home for the church, the bridal carriage, with its two white horses, was standing at the curb. The bride, arrayed in her wedding gown, was awaiting the coming of her intended

The minutes passed, and the bride at home and the wedding guests at the church still waited for the coming of the bride-

After half an hour, Rev. James Gough, dence, to inquire the cause of the delay. He told the priest that the prospective groom had not been seen since the day

To others he reported that Mrs. Caufield had said: "I have his clothes locked up, and he can't get them."

The bride grew so anxious that she sent the groomsman, Julius Stelert, out to see the groomsman, Julius Stelert, out to see what had happened to detain Caufield. He went to the Caufield home on Centerville avenue, but they would tell him nothing, and he thought they acted queerly. Then he went to the rooms on South High street, which had been furnished for the bride. Caufield was found on the bed in his shirt sleeves apparently asleep. Stelert tried in vain to arouse him, and went back and told the bride that the ceremony would have to be postponed, as Caufield was in a drunken stupor.

He spent the evening at her house and she eaw him handle several large bills. He was in high spirits and assisted in the prepara-tions for the wedding festivities of the mor-

Relatives from St. Louis arrived on the late train and it was midnight before Caufield left the house.

It was nearly an hour later when he entered the National Hotel bar, at the corner of the Public Square, less than three blocks away. He stayed there until about 4 o'clock, but the night barkeeper says he only spent $1.06 and was not very drunk. A man who was in the saloon at the time says that Caufield rattled the dice eleven times with some companions.

with some companions.

He left in company with Edward L. Jacoby and Bert Ward. They took him to the Btookey building on South High street, in which Caufield had furnished the rooms for his bride.

which Caufield had furnished the rooms for his bride.

About 8 o'clock, when Caufield should have been at the altar of St. Luke's, he came into the drug store of Dr. Stookey. The doctor could tell that he had been drinking, but he was comparatively sober. He wanted to borrow $25, but the doctor did not let him have it. He left and went to the office of the Investment Loan Association, but was also unsuccessful there.

Fifteen minutes later he returned to the drug store. Dr. Stookey was then at his residence next door, and before he came back into the store Caufield went away.

In less than haif an hour he was found unconscious, with every appearance of having deliberately taken off his coat and vest and laid down on the bed.

There was only one bottle in the room. It was a half-pint whisky bottle, purchased at the National Hotel before he left there. There were only a few drops of liquid in the bottom. It smelled like whisky, but there was a faint suggestion of something elss. Dr. Stookey took charge of it, with the itention of analyzing the contents if found necessary.

Jacoby keeps a music store on the first floor of the Stookey building. He said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"I was on my way home with two friends this morning from a party, and we dropped into the National Hotel for cigars. I had never seen Caufield before, but he was there and very communicative, and soon he was telling me about himself and his approaching wedding. I was entertained and I stayed and listened to him. After a while he said he was going home, and I asked him where he lived. He said in the Stookey Building, and I told him I was in business there, and accompanied by Bert Ward, we started home together. He was a little unsteady and we helped him up the steps. After looking at the rooms Ward left. Caufield sat down and I there myself on the bed. I lay there about three-quarters of an hour and then we both went down stairs to the store."

Caughd was able to talk some Tuesday evening, but his mind was wandering, and no importance could be attached to what he said. Wednesday morning his condition was worse. reconvened in the Luella Theater at 10 o'clock this morning. There had been some hopes that after the first dozen ballots the deadlock would be broken, but they were without foundation.

After Chairman Dysart had called the convention to order, the same monotonous proceedings of two weeks ago were begun. Fifty-nine more ballots, making a total of 1,089, were taken up to the time of the noon adjournment without any change in the strength of the candidates being made. Chariton, Linn, Sullivan and Grundy continued to cast 33 for Rucker, Livingston 9 for Miller, Carroll 12 for Lozier, Randolph 15 for Baskett, and Monroe gave her vote to Bodine.

Dr. J. C. Kelly of Brookfield, chairman of the Populist Congressional Committee, was in the city last night trying to get the delegates to break the deadlock by indorsing Dr. T. J. Polson of Lackede, the Populist nominee, but the delegates would not listen to such a proposition and Kelly returned home to-day.

MANY FACTS AND ARGUMENTS.

All the Leading Issues of the Campaign Presented in Strong Democratic Form.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.—Repres cratic campaign book of 1896. The manu-script was submitted to Chairmen Jones and Faulkner when Senator Jones was here last week, and they expressed entire satisfaction with the result. The book will be ready for the public the latter part of The title page contains the admonition of

The title page contains the admonition of Jefferson in his first inaugural address, to bow to the will of the majority, in these words:

"Absolute acquiescence in the decision of the majority—the vital principle of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism."

Commencing with the Chicago Convention it gives the platform recommended by the Committee on Resolutions, the speech of Mr. Bryan on the platform, the notification speeches and letters of acceptance. In the first chapter it lays down the fundamental principles of the Democratic party as expounded by Jefferson, Allen of Onio, Seymour of New York and Bryan. With these it contrasts Hamilton's idea of Government. It next takes up the silver question and for a hundred pages deals with that topic.

Among the subjects treated in this chapter are "Money of the Constitution," "No Flood of Silver," "The Uniformity of Ratio," "Silver Coinage Prior to 1873." "The Crime of 1873." "Motives for Demonetization," "Depreciation in Values," "Larger Volume of Money Needed," "Republicans Seek Change of Contracts," "Secretary Carlisle's Recent Letter," "Senator Faulkner's Protest in Reply," "Mr. Bryan's Protest," "Opinions of Eminent Europeans," "Opinions of Eminent Europeans," "Polity of the United States to Maintain Free Coinage."

of the United States to Maintain Free Coinage."

Following these are concise statements of fact and statistical tables. There are chapters on McKinley's public record on the subject of silver, Chinese immigration, the force bill and the effects of the McKinley tariff law.

Under the head of "Monroe Doctrine and Diplomatic Relations," the book quotes from Jefferson, Monroe and Cleveland on that subject, with suitable comments on the same. It also treats of Harrison's Samoan policy.

Under the head of "Immigration," it reviews the legislation on that subject, particularly the restriction of Chinese immigration.

ticularly the restriction of Chinese immigration.

The chapter on the "Income Tax," gives Bryan's speech in the House on that subject; the report of the committee; Mr. Wike's speech; the dissenting opinion of the Supreme Court, and Senator Vest's review of the subject.

Under the head of Labor the book reproduces in full Mr. Bryan's speech on Labor Day at Chicago. It goes into the Republican record on the subject of contract labor and closes with a memorial by all the great labor organizations in favor of free silver.

There is another chapter, entitled "The Business Men's Campaign." It quotes Mr. Bryan's definition of business men and gives full statistics of the number of each occupation.

The chapter on Trusts treats of the trust laws passed by the Democratic party.
The chapter on the Recent Issue of United States Bonds gives facts and figures.
There is a chapter on pensions, one on public lands, one on untaxing the rich, another on the record of the Fifty-fourth Congress, and finally a chapter on the tariff.
The book in print will make about $50 pages. The first edition consists of 10,000 copies. The price of the volume is 50 cents.

FUSION COMPLETE.

Agreement Made in Kentucky by Democrats and Populists.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 23.-The Popufist-Democratic agreement was signed last night by Chairman Parker for the Populists night by Chairman Parker for the Populists and Johnston for the Democrats. The agreement provides for Populist electors in the First and Third Districts, the remaining eleven electors to be Democrats. These electors are not pledged for Sewall or Watson. The Populists and Democrats agree to harmonize all differences as to Congressional and other candidates, and that the speakers of each party shall at all times urge the loyal support of the fusion agreement, the purpose being the election of Bryan and a Congress in harmony with his views on the financial question.

The Populists have already fused in the Third District, having indorsed Rhea for Congress, while the elector is a Populist. In the First District, Populist Keys and Democrat Wheeler enter a primary, the one receiving the largest Populist-Democratic vote to make the race as the fusion nomines.

SIGHING FOR PALMER.

Missouri Wall Street Democrats Are in a Bad Way. The Wall street wing of the Missouri Dem ocracy has laid saids its plug hat, doffed its English top-cost and is making a heroic effort to keep warm dancing to Mark Hanna's music. It finds itself in exceedingly cool quarters these Democratic days, and where it former ly got the glad hand it now looks into the glassy eye and bumps up against the mar-ble heart. Missouri is an unhealthy State for ble heart. Missouri is an unhealthy State for traitors.

At Wall street headquarters Wednesday Secretary Wm. Reedy and Col. George Tansey, chief of the Dress Suit Brigade, were in a state of subdued excitement.

They had just telegraphed to that thirty-third degree bolter, John M. Palmer, asking him to come to Missouri and stand up for Wall street. As a postcript to their telegram they added:

"Pawpaws are ripe on the Ozark slope."

And then they franked the whole message.

And then they franked the whole message.

John M. Palmer is in New York City. All the Wall street men go there as soon as they are nominated for anything and receive instructions. The Wall street Democrats are very anxious to have Palmer come to Missouri in October.

Thursday morning the Bolters' State Committee will start out a small army of canvassers. They will go from house to house, soliciting signatures to the petition asking the Secretary of State to put the Bolters' ticket on the official ballot.

The Legal Committee of the Wall street wing has rendered an opinion declaring that it, will only have to secure 1,000 signers to comply with the State law.

As soon as these signatures are secured the form of the ticket will be made out and then will come the legal question of the If the bolters try to use the word "Demo-orat" they will be restrained by law.

WASHINGTON, Warren County, N. J., Sept. 22.—At Phillipsburg a royal greeting was given Mr. Bryan. The station from supon a public square, where a stand had been erected. A brass band and an immense throng were in waiting, and to them Mr. Bryan said:

Fellow-citizens—We are in the midst of a campaign, a campaign in which an issue is submitted to the American people more grave in its importance, greater in its results than any issue, in my judgment, which has been submitted to the American people in time of peace during the entire history of this country.

Feeling is aroused on both sides and well may there be feeling, because those who are entrenched behind special privileges know that the success of this campaign, the election of the Chicago ticket, means that they will be driven from their bulwark and made to earn their living like other made to earn their living like other searn, they will fight with desperation to hold on to the Government. Great applause.)

tell you that they understand this to be a campaign in which the people are defending their homes and their firesides and fighting for posterity. (Applause.) If you would ask me what the campaign song ought to be this year, I tell you that there is no better song to illustrate this campaign than that beautiful song, "Home, Sweet Home. (Enthusiastic applause.)

I have been struck with the intensity of the feeling that is manifested in this campaign. Sometimes we have people who are indifferent about the result of the campaign. It is not so this year; we find no lukewarm people anywhere; we find those who are against us and who will contribute liberally of the corruption fund, and we find those with us who have no money to corrupt the voters with. (Applause.)

You do not have to him carriages to bring the people to the polls this fall. (Applause.)

You do not have to him carriages to bring the people to the polls this fall, my friends (applause); they wil be there when the polls open and you cannot keep them interests are at etake in this campaign. Our opponents want to know how the money question can concern them.

If you want to know how the money it concerns those who have been in the habit of preying upon the public. (Applause.)

If the money question is so important to the syndicates of this country that they can subscribe to the fund to use in this campaign, the people understand that there must be something in it for the syndicates or they would hardly be so liberal in this campaign. These men are not in the habit of throwing money away, my friends, and when you find them rolling up an enormous corruption fund, you may depend upon it that they expect to get back every dollar they subscribe by unfair legislation. (Applause and cries of "More toe.")

Roll-Call of States on Banking Conditions Developed Into a "Sound Money" Love Feast.

Wm. McKinley will be elected President order of business was the call of roll of States for reports on the condition of the banking business in various localities. S. H. Harner of Helena, Ark., reported money conditions in his State better since the cotton crop began moving. He deprecated the extent of free silver sentiment in the country and smaller towns, but said the banking interests were doing what they could to stamp it out.

Mr. Luts of California, after stating that his State had always operated on a gold basis, began to explain the difficulties of banking in that State. He said he was ashamed of his great gold-producing State for sending silver delegates to the two great National Conventions.

J. K. Ottey of Atlantia, Ga., took a rap at free silver, but otherwise reported his State as prosperous.

F. W. Tracey of Springfield reported all

Judge T. J. Latham of Memphis, Tenn., made a witty speech on the merits of Lincoln County whisky as against that of Kentucky. Then he branched off into politics. He declared that with good weather and other conditions being favorable Tennessee could count as many votes as any State in the Union. With a ring of triumph in his voice, Judge Latham cried out: "The counters are on the right side now and we will encourage them to lay it on thick as they have never laid it on before."

Tremendous cheers greeted this declaration of goldbug ballot stuffing in the South. Messrs. Simpson of Dallas, Tex.; J. J. Estey of Brattleboro, Vt.; Caldwell Hardin of Norfolk, Va., and J. E. Sands of Fairmont, W. Va., made short "sound money" talks.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES TURN OUT SUNDRY CONTESTS.

THE CONVENTION THURSDAY.

Candidates for the Nominations to the battle of the factions in some of the wards.

In the Eleventh Ward John Elsperman, Jr., wants to succeed Joseph F. Dickmann in the committee, and the incumbent wants to remain. Dickmann was at the Election Commissioners' office Wednesday in an irate frame of mind.

Wednesday some parties, alleged to be frame of mind.

Wednesday some parties, alleged to be inspired by the opposition delegation, circulated a lot of dodgers raising a religious issue. Dickmann said he had been in politics a great many years, and never had to contend with such tactics before.

The Seventeenth Ward contest will determine whether Andy Boland or Tom Conway will be Committeeman. Doug Crothers, private secretary to Postmaster Carisle, is handling Conway's interests.

In the Fourteenth W. H. O'Brien is after the scaip of Committeeman John J. Burke and an immense vote is being polled. O'Brien's supporters claim that the Election Commissioners gave Burke an advantage in the location of the polls.

In the Twentieth is the hottest of all the contests and crowds were at both polls becontests and crowds were at both polls before they were opened. Dan Hatton, who has been Central Committeeman for the past 10 years, has a formidable opponent in Dr. A. V. L. Brokaw, who enjoys the distinction of nevel having been on a losing delegation. The Brekaw delegation has the support of the Olive street railway employes and the knowing ones predicted it would triumph. In the Twenty-fourth Ward the Ward and Sullivan factions are having their biennial struggle for supremacy.

Candidates for the Nominations to City Offices Will Give the Delegates Enough to Do.

The office of the Board of Election Commissioners was the busiest corner of the City Hall Wednesday. It was the day set for the Democratic election of delegates to Thursday's convention.

Democratic City Central Committee is not progressing as rapidly as the leaders would like to have it. There are 5,500 blocks in the city and up to Tuesday night the reports received at the city headquarters numbered less than 200. These were from the heavy Democratic sections and showed a large increase in the Democratic vots.

The plan is to get a poll of every block by Oct. 1, so that notices can be sent to all Democrats to register on the three days set apart by law, Oct. 6, 10 and 12.

Chairman Brady has urged the committeemen to hurry up with the returns else it will be too late to get out the notices.

The Republicans began their canvass several weeks ahead of the Democrats and have it now about completed. They are also ahead in getting out notices to their workers. They were better equipped in having a large fund and an army of city employes to assess for the needful and consequently had no difficulty setting men to canvass the blocks.

The Republican poll of the Twenty-first employes to assess for the needful and consequently had no difficulty getting men to canvass the blocks.

The Republican poll of the Twenty-first Ward, according to the figures submitted to Uncle Filley's City Committee, shows a Republican gain of 80 over the figures of 1881, and a Democratic loss.

The Democratic canvassers are at work in this ward and claim the Republicans have erred in their poll. They put the employes of the People's Railway Co., meat of whom live in that ward, on the list as McKinley-ites. There are over 20 gripmen and conductors and posted politicians say that Bryan will not lose thirty-five of their votes. HILL'S CROCODILE TEARS.

The betrayal of the Democratic party in New York by the nomination of John Boyd Thacher was a characteristic piece of the cunning and treacherous work which has made the name of Hill synonous with all that is weak and despica-

Dec. 31, 1836, Daniel Webster declare that "gold and silver, at rates fixed by Congress constitute the legal standard of value in this country and neither Con-gress nor any State has authority to establish any other standard OR TO DIS-PLACE THAT STANDARD."

There is a wide divergence of opinion here. According to Daniel Webster Congress was without constitutional right or power to demonetize silver in 1873. According to Gen. Henderson Congress is now without constitutional right or power to re-establish dimetallism and fix the

THE BANKERS' VIEW.

The associated bankers have adopted with enthusiasm a resolution declaring that they are satisfied with the present situation and favor the maintenance of the existing gold standard.

This is natural. If a meeting of the Sugar Trust magnates were held they would doubtless unanimously resolve in favor of the existing import duty on raw sugar unless it could be made higher. The Anthracite Coal Trust would resolve that the prosperity of the country is pro-moted by the combination which enables them to squeeze $40,000,000 more a year out of the unfortunate consumer, while the Trust attorney whom Mr. Cleveland has put into his Cabinet as Attorney General looks tdly, if not approvingly, on. All the Standard Oil plutocrats, from Rockefeller and Whitney down, would resolve that it is "anarchy" to try to loosen their grip on the legislators and judges whom they have bought as an invest-

The bankers profit by the existing conditions and of course favor their continuance. They and the interests they represent are the real rulers of the country, and, like other rulers, they see no need of a change. In fact, from their point of view, the suggestion of a change is revolutionary.

But the interests of the people who are being ground down under a rising dollar are not the same as those of the bankers and money-lenders. The interests of the farmers, the laborers, the borrowers, the mortgage-burdened, the unemployed victims of paralyzed industry are exactly the opposite of those of the bankers and oney-lenders. And on Nov. 3 they should vote their interests. If they do it then with as much unanminity as the bankers voted in their own interests on Tuesday the most beneficient revolution in the history of the United States will be peacefully accomplished.

HOT SHOT FROM DEMOCRATS

R. H. Murphy and John B. Demps Reply to Benj. H. Charles' Kind Invitation.

The "Sound Money" Democratic Club of St. Louis has been sending out circular let-ters begging the Democrats to join their club and help elect McKinley. One of these circulars was sent to R. H. Murphy, the real estate agent at 618 Chestnut street. It pleted to-day. Our canvasser returns your name as a Sound Money Democrat. It is of the utmost importance that every Democrat opposed to the Chicago platform and the free coinage of silver at 15 to 1, should asset in defeating Bryan and Sewall by joining the Sound Money Democratic Club. "There is no expense attached to membership in this organization and good results can be accomplished by having a large membership.

"St. Louis, Sept. 23, 1896. Benjamin H. Charles, Jr., Secretary Sound Money Democratic Club, 702 Olive street, city: Dear Sir-Acknowledging your favor of this date, will say in reply, your precinct canvasser is correct in his report that I am a sound money Democrat, but I cannot join your organization because I am a sound money Democrat, and as such, am in favor of the restoration of the money of the Constitution, I e., gold and sliver, free and unlimited, at the ratio of I to 16. And favoring sound money, as I do, I cannot join an organization which, calling itself a Democratic club, is not in favor of sound (lawful and honest) money, is not a Democratic club, because you seek the defeat of the candidates regularly nominated and put before the people for their suffrages by the representative body delegated by the Democrate of the State to perform that duty; and you do not appear to be even a club, for you say, 'no expense attaches to membership. If there were no other reason for my refusal to join your organization, this latter would suffice, for I should want to know who pays the freight. As your 'club' is organized for the defeat of Bryan and Sewall, and their defeat at the polls would lnevitably result in the election of the Republican candidates, I can enjly infer, in the absence of a more plausibre explanation, that the 'freight' is paid by Hanna. Cause Much Loss of Life and Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 23.—The steamer Doric, from the Orient, brings news of a series of unprecedented catastrophies that have befallen the Mikado's realm. In Gifu Prefecture 4,300 houses were blown down, and along the Haji-Gawa, 400 persons down, and along the Haji-Gawa, 400 persons lost their lives.

The severest storm occurred on Aug. 20. Along the Isatsugawa eighty-four lives were lost. A severe earthquake was followed by a downpour such as had never before been experienced on the islands. The European residents were panic-stricken and sought shelter on the highlands.

The Minatogawa overflowed its banks at midnight of the 28th ultimo, and the waters inundated streets and fields, sweeping away 300 houses and drowning 200 persons at Kobe. After twelve hours' work the broken embankments were repaired by sand bags.

broken embankments were repaired by sales, bags.

To make the fate of Kobe worse a fire broke out late in the evening, and, fanned by the high winds, spread over the entire city. A large number of blocks, including 2,200 houses and twelve go-downs, were destroyed totally, and ten houses, two police boxes, one fire brigade station, four temples and one theater were badly damaged.

temples and one theater were badly damaged.

The burned area comprises ten streets. The total damage by fire was 1,000,000 yen. On Sept. 1, in Rokugo district, a terrible series of earthquakes shook the country. Nine persons were killed there and more than forty at Hataya, Senya, Takanashi, Yokohori, Yokozawa, Nagashida, Shimzu and Fujik. The hills at Senya cracked. Fire broke out here and there. Water gushed out in many places and rumblings continue. At Obonai eleven persons were killed.

At Rokogu the persons killed.

centage of sickness and death in the Egyptian expedition, says that it is due to the necessity of rigid economy, arising from France refusing to sanction the use of Egyptian funds.

"The expedition," continues the Times, "is small and is compelled to make forced marches and to undergo other hardships in order to make time. England cannot afford for the sake of economy to undo her own successful work and she must herself find the money to prosecute the campaign under conditions consistent with common humanity to the troops."

Weyler Thirsts for a Battle.

KEY WEST, Fia., Sept. 23.—Capt. Gen. Weyler, according to Havana advices, will make a desperate effort to force the insurgents to a decisive battle. It is Weyler's opinion that the island is lost unless he can crush the inaurgents in one great fight. The re-enforcements arriving from Spain are being hurried into Pinar del Rio Province. Gen. Arolas, with 6,000 fresh troops, is strengthening the trocha garrisons, which heve been decimated by yellow fever. Weyler is gathering a picked force of 8,000 men. This division the Captain General intends to lead in person against Antonio Maceo.

Lost on the Grand Banks.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 23.—The banking schooner Charlie Mayo has brought in eight men who were rescued from the sinking French vessel, Jessie, on the Grand Banks, Saturday. The ship had, broken apart at the stern owing to heavy seas. A blue and white flag, picked up recently near Wadham Island, is believed to mean another marine disaster.

FOR GARDINER.

DUTE THINKS THAT HE CAN DE-FEAT THE CHICAGO CRACK.

MATCH MADE WITH COBURN.

But That Will Not Prevent Cabanne Taking On the Windy Cityan -Sporting News.

Many people wonder why Dute Cabanne is the most popular racing man on the track, and why he is more talked of than any other cyclist, even those who may be said to be faster men.

Cabanne is a great drawing card, and very popular with the stands.
At Alton last week Willie Coburn was beating Dute right along. The announcer would call off the result of the race. There was not a murmur when he called Coburn first and Curry second in the mile open, but when he got to "Dute Cabanne of St. Louis third." a roar went up from the stand that lasted five minutes.

It is all due to Cabanne's straight-forwardness and aggressive disposition.

Many racing men will tell a reporter that they can beat another man, and when their statement is printed they will be quick to deny it.

they can beat another man, and when their statement is printed they will be quick to deny it.

Cabanne is different. When he is asked if he can beat a man he will say yes or nogenerally yes—and he will stick to it. If a rider goes up and asks him: "Cabanne, did you say you can beat me?" Dute will make no bones about saying what he thinks in a gentlemanly way.

Now, Dute is not satisfied with having what he knows is a hard match race with Willie Coburn. He is looking for Arthur Gardiner's scalp also.

A Post-Dispatch reporter informed Cabanne that Gardiner would be here, and jokingly added, "He will beat you in the open events." Dute fiared up, "Gardiner can't beat me even if I had only one pedal. If I do not get on the match with Willie I will take on Gardiner for fun or money. Anyhow, he won't win an open event here if I can help it. Til beat him even if he has 16 men to help him win. I'll bet him, any amount that I can beat him."

CABANNE AND COBURN.

The Stars Will Ride for the Big Purse

Offered by the A. C. C.'s. The Associated Cycling Clubs showed that they know a good thing when they see it when they agreed to offer a $250 purse for three match races between Dute Cabanne and Willie Coburn, to take place on Oct. 8.

A meeting of the association was held at the Century Road Club headquarters last night. Cabanne was present, but Coburn was riding at Roodhouse and could not attend. He sent his terms—$250—by Cabanne. After some consideration the A. C. C's accepted them and also agreed to furnish pacemakers.

By getting the match race the association assured the strongest drawing card that could possibly be secured. It will be well worth any man's $2' to see the three races, but the A. C. C's will not make any extra charge at the gate, although there are people who would rather give $5 to see Cabanne and Coburn try conclusions than to pay 50 cents to see the amateurs race in open events.

In addition to this, the association was they know a good thing when they see it

THE IMPASSIVE RUSSIAN.

He Was Brief and Laconic in His Expressions of Thanks.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Chronicle says of the Russian visitors:

"It is stated that the Czar and Czarina are highly pleased with their hearty reception. But such feelings are certainly and betrayed by the Czar, whose brief and almost laconic thanks for the addresses presented to him and whose cold unimpose thanks and fearless pleasure of the Frince of Wales.

"The Czar was always glancing nervously aside at the slightest hitch in the proceedings. He listened to the addresses in imposive style, as if they were in a foreign tongue and seemed so surprised at the content of intense interest and admiration at Edinburgh, that he quickly dropped it into the hands of the Earl of Fembroke.

"The baby, Grand Duchess Olga, was the center of intense interest and admiration among the court ladies."

SULLY PUNCHED HIM.

The Great John L. Could Not Phase Street Car Conductor.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.-John L. Sullivan Was arrested at 8 o'clock last night on a Dudley street car, charged with assault and battery. He attempted to board the car with his big dog. The conductor objected because it was against the rules. John insisted. The conductor was spunky. He knew who the big fellow was, but he wasn't afraid. He actually pushed the ex-champion puglist of the world off the platform. John was mad; he didn't do a thing to that conductor. He only landed him one right between the eyes and the crimson flowed. A policeman was called and John was ignominously jugged. The conductor calmiy rang two bells and the car went on. John will be arraigned in the Roxbury District Court today. For several hours the big fellow chafed in custody, as he was unable to procure bail until about midnight. The ex-champion's muscle must have depreciated somewhat, as the conductor was not badly hurt. tery. He attempted to board the car with ar the candidate. The crush was some hear the candidate. The crush was something awful. Many of those who succeeded in getting inside the hall had their clothing almost torn from them. Many cases of more or less severe injury were reported, one man with a broken arm being taken to the hospital, Hundreds of policemen were powerless to keep the crowds in check. Mr. Bryan made his headquarters at the Lafayette Hotel, two blocks above the Academy, on Broad street. In front of the hotel over 8,000 people gathered, desirous of getting at least a glimpse of the distinguished visitor.

over s,000 people gardered, desireds of set of the distinguished visitor.

Mr. Bryan said in part:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow-citizens: The gold standard papers ask why I came to Pennsylvania. I have rothing to conceal. I will tell you why I came. I come first to secure, if possible, the electoral vote of the State of Pennsylvania. If you deny that, if you will not give me that vote, if we are defeated in this campaign, then I come upon another mission, and that is to tell the people of Pennsylvania that the agistation for free coinage will never case in this country until the gold standard is driven back to England.

"They say that the craze is dying out. I care not what they call the silver cause. You may apply to it such epithets as you will, but I know that the silver cause will not dee, because the truth never dies. (Applause.) You ask me why I know that this sause is true. I can give you many good reasons, but one reason is sufficient that every enemy to good government is against free silver. You can know a cause, as you can know an individual, by the company that it keeps. Our cause appeals to the masses of the people, because the masses are interested in equal laws. Our cause is opposed by those who want to use our Government for profit, because we are opposed to government instituted for any such purposes. (Applause.)

city, and yet you say you will give a hundred thousand majority against that doctrine. (Cries of "No, no; Never"). I came to proclaim financial independence in a city which saw the Declaration of Independence signed more than a hundred years ago. (Great applause.) You say that this city in which the forefathers gathered when they were willing to defy the foreign Powers and declare their independence—you say this city is afraid to have financial independence. I shall not declare that the descendants of our forefathers of a hundred years ago, have sunk so low unless you write it so at the ballot box in November. (Great applause.)

After a brief reference to foreign influence in finance at present and a sharp reply to those who have said he was lacking in dignity, which he said was not so essential as honesty, Mr. Bryan plunged into his argument for the free coinage of silver and against the maintenance of the gold standard, using much the same points as in previous speeches. He incidentally rapped the Indianapolis convention as composed of men putting up one ticket to elect another. Following this, Mr. Bryan proceeded to discuss the Republican platform, as he has done before, as dodging bimetallism with the aid of the international clause, leaving us at the caprice of foreign nations, thereby, in effect, declaring for the gold standard.

Mr. Bryan then went on with a review of the national platforms of the two parties since 1888 and eaid:

"Our ment that could not attempt to make a speech would have been disastrous to Mr. Bryan's would have been disastrous to Mr. Bryan's leave the proper size of foreign nations, thereby, in effect, declaring for the gold standard.

Mr. Bryan then went on with a review of the national platforms of the two parties since 1888 and eaid:

"Our ment the people of the people of the United States to say to the National Bank sets itself up against the maintenance of the gold standard.

Mr. Bryan then went on with a review of the ment of the people of the people of the people of the people us at the caprice of foreign nations, thereby, in effect, declaring for the gold standard.

Mr. Bryan then went on with a review of the national platforms of the two parties since 1888 and said:

"Our record is clear. The Democratic party never declared for a gold standard and no man in office ever agitated a gold standard after he was elected until he betrayed the people who elected him. (Applause.) I deny the right of any public servant to secure office upon a platform and then abandon the platform. My friends, I was reared in a different school of Democracy. (Applause.) When I find that my conscience will not permit me to carry-out the platform on which I was elected, I will resign and let some other man have the office. (Applause.) ice. (Applause.)

FOR THE WAR.

TRUE DEMOCRATS DETERMINED TO DOWN THE GOLD STANDARD.

MR. BRYAN AT PHILADELPHIA.

"Every Enemy to Good Government Je Opposed to Free Silver," and the Fight Must Go On.

"PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 22.—At the Academy of Musio last night Mr. Bryan addressed 6,000 people, who were jammed almost to suffocation, the sending capacity of the house being only 3,000.

Grathered in the street outside of the Academy were fully 35,000 people, who stood patiently until 10:30 p. m. hoping to see or then selves Democrats. (Hisses and groans.) There is not an influence that tried to defeat Jackson that is not to-day arrayed against the house being only 3,000.

been presented before him, and they call themselves Democrats. (Hisses and groans.)

"My friends, our opponents tell you that I am very radical. I am a conservative man. These goldbugs who think I am radical, so the paper says, have joined with the Populists of Texas, who think that I am not radical enough. (Applause and laughter.) My friends, I am a conservative man; I am a believer in law and order. I believe in the enforcement of law. I do not believe that any man, whether he be small or great, should be permitted to defy the law. If I would stop half way, many of these people would like me. If I would say that I am in favor of enforcing the law against the small, I would be a good man. It is when I say that I am in favor of enforcing the law against the great that I become a dangerous man. Dangerous to whom? To the people that are eating the bread that they earn? No. Dangerous to the people who eat bread that somebody else earns. (Great applause.)

came. I come first to secure, if possible, the electoral vote of the State of Pennsylvania. If you deny that, if you will not give me that vote, if we are defeated in this campaign, then I come upon another mission, and that is to tell the people of Pennsylvania that the agilation for free coinage will never cease in this country until the gold standard is driven back to England.

"They say that the craze is dying out. I care not what they call the silver cause will not it such epithets as you will but it know that the silver cause will not die, because the truth never dies. (Applaise.) You sak me why I know that this cause is true. I can give you many good reasons, but one reason is sufficient that every enemy to good government is against free silver. You can know a cause, as you can know an individual, by the company that it keeps. Our cause appeals to the masses of the people, because the masses are interested in equal laws. Our cause is opposed by those who want to use our Government instituted for any such purposes. (Applause.)

"Your city is called the City of Brotherly Love. I come to proclaim to you the gospel that is described by the name of your own city, and yet you say you will give a hundred thousand majority against that doctrine. (Cries of "No, no; Never!"). Wrought to a furious frenzy, Mrs. Clifford L. Cox tried to kill her husband and herself at 1038 Vanderventer avenue Tuesday night.

The assault was made with a razor in the counter girl at the bakery, saved Mrs. Cox from wounding her husband at the risk of her own life.

She grasped Mrs. Cox's right hand, in which the razor was held, and received an ugly gash across her palm. With blood dripping from her hand she bravely clung to the infuriated woman, screaming for help, until a man, who had been lunching in the restaurant, sprang to her assistance. He was also slightly wounded on the hand.

Mrs. Cox, shricking with rage, kried to turn the razor upon herself. By this time her outcries and the screams of Miss Hahn had attracted a crowd of between three and four hundred people.

All during the attack and the struggle between Mrs. Cox and the girl, Clifford L. Cox stood as if powerless, He pleaded with his wife to be calm, but every word he uttered seemed to enrage her all the more.

Mr. Cox then sent for Drs. W. J. Gundelach and F. R. Fry to attend to his wife. Dr. Gundelach caused him to be excluded from the room, Mrs. Cox being almost unmanageable while he was present. The woman was completely unstrung and hysterical.

"I don't care what becomes of the place!

The woman was completely unstrung and hysterical.

"I don't care what becomes of the place now," she said.

A city dispensary wagon rolled up in front of the bakery in response to a telephone message that an insane woman had run amuck there. This added to the excitement of the crowd, and the police had to finally clear the house. Mrs. Cox's husband refused to allow her removal in the dispensary wagon.

Delegations From Ohio, New York and Indiana Listen to the Republican Candidate.

CANTON, O., Sept. 23 .- Delegations visited Maj. McKinley yesterday from Holmes County, Ohio; Chautauqua and Cattaraugus Counties, New York, and Elkhart and Northern Indiana.

Northern Indiana.

To the Chautauqua delegations Maj. Mc-Kinley said in part:

"My Fellow Citizens: It must never be written that this nation either encourages or practices dishonesty. Good money we will continue to have. What we want now is a chance to earn more of our good money. We never had better currency in the world than we have to-day, and we never had so much work in our history as we had in 1892. What we want to get is good times, and the people are only waiting for an opportunity in 1896 to vote back the principles and policies they gave up four years ago. We want no free trade in the United States. We want the American workshop protected and defended against the foreign workshop for the benefit of American workmen.

workshop protected and defended against the foreign workshop for the benefit of American workmen.

"Free silver means free trade. Suppose you could pay the duty with a 53-cent dollar, would you not reduce the protection you now have almost one-half? My fellow citizens, do not be deluded. No matter how much money we have or may have in this country, there is but one way to get it, and that is by giving something for it. What we want just now is somebody who wants what we have to give him. Labor cannot walt. The capital of the workingman is in his strong right arm. If he does not use it foday, just that much of his capital has gone forever. The capitalist can wait on his dividends, but the workingman cannot wait on his dinner. And there is nothing so well calculated to injure laber in the United States as a depreciated currency.

The following is an extract from McKinley's speech to the Holmes County delegates:

"Now, what is free silver? Free silver is going to cure all our ills. (Laughter.) My fellow citizens, it does not make any difference how free silver is in its coinage in the United States, you will not get a dollar of it unless you give something for it. (Loud applause and cries of That's right."

"If we had mints in every State in the Union and in every county of every State, and the silver of the world was brought to those mints, as is proposed by our political opponents, silver would not be any freer for you than it is now. (Tremendous chearing and cries of 'You are right, Major.') Then, besides, in this country we do not propose to have a dishonest dollar. (Continuous applause.) We propose to have the best of everything that is good. (Applause.) We have the best country and the best men, and we propose to continue to have the best money." "A voice: "That's what we are going to do.")

To the Indiana clubs Mr. McKinley said in part:

. N. W. CORNER SIXTH AND ST. CHARLES STREETS

"Having settled the question of tariff, here is one other question that is already "Having settled the question of tariff, there is one other question that is already settled, but that some people propose to unsettle, and that is the money question; and we are opposed to any such unsettling as they propose. They propose to debase the currency of the country by free silver, as they have degraded the country by free trade. We want in this country dollars worth 100 cents each, dollars which are as good as in any country in the world, and dollars that are not only good in New York, but also in London and in Liverpool; that are not only good in Ohio, but in every mart or market place in the world. That is the kind of money we have now; that is the kind the Republican party gave this country."

MARK P. GOODLETT.

In an interview with a Kansas City Star reporter, that was published in that paper on Thursday, Sept. 17, 1896, T. B. Buckner, who had been campaigning in Henry County, made the following statement:

"To show you how earnest and enthusiastic they are, Tuesday night I spoke to a crowded house at Windsor for over two hours, and scarcely a man left the house, and I really believe the crowd would have stayed for an hour longer. Many Democrats then told me they would at once renounce Bryan and Populism and enlist under the banner of Paimer and Buckner.

We, the undersigned named Democrats, who heard T. B. Buckner speak in Windsor on Tuesday night, Sept. 15, 1896, emphatically DENY and BRAND AS FALSE the above statement, and say that we did not tell him that we would renounce Bryan and Populism and enlist under the banner of Paimer and Buckner, nor have we heard, nor do we know, of any one that did.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT.

Miss Jennie Lewis Wants $5,000 Be cause Jules Young of De Soto Blighted Her Affections.

When Jules Young, a wealthy furnitur dealer of De Soto, Mo., stepped from the Iron Mountain train at the Fourth street depot Wednesday morning there was a smile on his features and a rose on the lapel of his new overcoat. His step was elastic and he looked every inch a lady killer as he made his way to the

Mr. Young had come all the way from De Soto to meet a lady, and the waiting-room was the trysting place. He entered the apartment and walked into the arms—not of his fair charmer, but of a deputy sheriff. The lady was not there, but the deputy was representing her.

The officer of the law sprung a document on Mr. Young setting forth that he was defendant in a breach of promise suit and citing him to appear before the Circuit Court of the City of St. Louis and show cause why he should find be mulcted in the sum of $5,000 for toying with the heart-strings of a lady.

The lady in the case is Miss Jennie Lewis and the story dates back to the balmy days of June.

The lady in the case is Miss Jennie Lewis and the story dates back to the balmy days of June.

Miss Lewis was employed as saleswoman in a De Soto dry goods store. Young is one of the recognized swells of the thrifty little town. His father is a wealthy farmer and he himself owns a large furniture establishment. The junior Young, while passing a dry goods store behind his spanking team of bays, saw a pretty face which he learned belonged to a nice young woman named Lewis.

He secured an introduction. Acquaintance ripened into friendship and then Cupid got, in his work.

According to Miss Lewis' story it was on or about June 25 that Young gave vent to his pent up feelings and asked her to be his. She consented and says that Young told her he would marry her shortly. Afterwards he told her shortly he would not marry her.

This was done by mail and before Miss Lewis gets through with him Mr. Young may be sorry he ever learned to write.

Miss Lewis came to St. Louis early in August. Shortly after that Young wrote her saying that his father was very much opposed to the match. Letters of similar tenor came regularly and each time the old man's wrath was painted in more glowing colors.

Finally on Aug. 26 Young wrote saying

She consulted Attorney Alphonse Lefkow. Then she used the mails on Mr. Young.

She made an appointment to meet him Wednesday morning at the Iron Mountain Depot to talk the matter over. Meanwhile Attorney Lefkow had been busy. He was down town bright and early Wednesday morning. He flied the suit at the Courthouse at 8 o'clock. Then he ran down stairs and placed the summons in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Ourshbku. At 8:15 the papers were served on Young.

Miss Lewis' suit is for $5,000 damages for mental anguish and other complaints superinduced by Young's refusal to marry her. Miss Lewis is employed in a large St. Louis dry goods store.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SECRETARY T TAKE A BIBLE COURSE.

HE IS STILL IN THE CITY He Has Confidence in the Success

the Plans for the Season's Work.

Mr. R. L. Gurney, Secretary of the Su day-school Union, makes, through the Post Dispatch, the following statements regard ing the affairs of the Union:

"The Sunday-school Union, like m ligious organizations, has had a hard year financially, but notwithstanding, has raised sufficient to carry the work right along. The debt, which is of two years' standing, is due to the fact that practically nothing has been received from the schools the past three years, because of the large amount raised by them in 1833 for the World's and International Conventions. The officers, therefore, did not feel justified in asking for more until now. Many personal subscriptions have been secured by President Brownell and other officers by which the work has been sustained, but this year very little has been received from this source, and at a meeting of the Executive Board early in July it was decided to make an extra effort to get a large collection on annual offering Day, Sunday, Oct. 1. That Board then instructed me to lock up the office during the morning and part of the afternoon, and spend the time outside calling on the superintendents for subscriptions.

"When your reporter called he found the office closed. Instead of reading the notice on the door to the effect that the office would only be open between 12 and 2, and 4 and 6, and that the secretary would call upon any person not able to call between these hours, he stated that I had closed up entirely, turned the keys over to my superiors, and because the work could not be made to go, I had left the city. This was a mistake, for the office has been open during these hours every day for the past two months. Instead of not being able to make the work 'go,' the officers have frequently stated that the present prosperous condition of the general work of the Union is largely due to what I have been able to accomplish in the office, by calling on the officers of the schools, and by visiting from two to three Sunday school almost every Sunday. I did not 'hurriedly pack my grip, and, leaving behind me the scenes of my Sunday school abors, catch a train for Hamilton, N. Y., but, on the contrary, am still here.

"The statement that I could not see my way clear to steer the Union out of its financial difficulties was also a mistake, as it was not my duty to raise the money, nor to try to 'penetrate the financial mists of slices to keep the present the Execution, I only did so bec

She was in Chicago at the time and gave herself up, evidently thinking the man's suicide was owing to some fault of hers, punishable by law. She was not wanted, however, and since then she has been in this city. She is said to have given evidences of falling mental strength, and it is feared she may commit suicide. It is said she has for some time had the case of the St. Louis suicide upon her mind, and keeps muttering incoherent things about him.

TERRIFIC GALE IN ENGLAND.

Much Damage Was Done to Shipping Along the Coast.

LONDON Sept. 23.-A terrific gale has swept over this city and the coasts of the United Kingdom. The storm broke last evening and lasted all night long, playing havoc with the trees in the London parks havoc with the trees in the London parks and causing a great amount of damage among the coast and fishing craft. The loss of life is reported to be slight.

The Red Star Line steamship Rhyneland, Capt. Beynon, from Philadelphia on Sept. 12, for Liverpool arrived at Queenstown this morning and reported having passed through the full force of the gale yesterday. Heavy seas swept over her and flooded her deckhouse and state rooms. The mail boat running between Calais and Dover was badly damaged by the storm.

Look Around

and see the women who are using Pearline. It's easy to pick them out. They're brighter, fresher, more cheerful than the women who have spent twice as much time in the rub, rub, rub, of the old way. Why shouldn't they be? Washing with Pearline is easy.

And look at the clothes that are washed with Pearline.

They're brighter, and fresher, too. They haven't been rubbed to pieces on the washboard. They may be old, but they don't show it. For clothes washed with Pearline last longer.

REVIVAL OF "CYMBELINE."

Sir Henry Irving's Presentation Made a Hit in London.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Sir Henry Irving's revival of "Cimbeline," at the Lyoeum Theater last night, was received with tremendous enthusiasm and proved to be an admirable acting version of the play. Sir admirable acting version of the part Ichaimo, in-Henry's assumption of the part Ichaimo, in-Henry's assumption of the part Ichaimo, in-The Brotherhood re-elected all the Grand stead of that of Positumos, the part usu-ally assigned to the principal actor, was amply justified, the latter role being much amply justified, the laster role being much dwarfed in comparison with his rendition. The splendid performances of Sir Henry and Miss Ellen Terry, as Imogene, have added luster to their old successes.

The scenery of the production, especially the Roman interior, which was arranged under Alma Tadema's supervision, was admirably life-like and the whole representation was the most poetic and convincing that has yet been seen of this play.

There were many recalls after each act. In response to demands for a speech at the fail of the curtain, Sir Henry announced that before producing "Madam Sans Gene," which he has in prospect, he intended a short revival of "Richard III." This announcement was loudly cheered. The audience included Sir Edward Braddon, Arthur Pinero, F. C. Burnand, Sir Edward Burne-Jones and Alma Tadema.

SPECIAL NOTICE. 14 words or less, 20c.

N. 6th st., Thursday, 10 o'clock.

Mary Trumble, for three years employed in the family of Mr. M. A. Rowan, editor of the Oshkosh, Wis., Signal, said in an interview on the 23d of May, 1895: "I am only too glad to give my experience with the Ripans Tabules, and I hope some fellow sufferer will be led to find a cure in them, as I was. For more than two years I never knew what it was to be free from that awful disease, dyspepsia. I also had almost constantly a dull headache. over my eyes. I felt so badly most of the time that I could not do my work as I should do. I became discouraged, broken down. One day Mrs. Rowan, my employer, gave me a few Ripans I had spent nearly all my savings for months in doctoring and for different kinds of medicine that seemed to do me no good, but as these were given to me I thought I might try them. I used these (about a dozen) and then bought a box. The result was I felt like another woman, and I am now almost entirely free of my trouble with my stomach, and the headache is all gone. I always keep the Tabules on hand and take one now and then as I feel I need it. They have truly worked wonders for me. (Signed), Mary Trumble, 52 Pleasant av., Oshkosh, Wis.

uri and Illines company's mines in St. Clair County, at Rentchler, Wilderman Station and Freeburg, are on a strike, caused, it is claimed, by the company's failure to keep the agree ment arrived at in East St. Louis Sept. 15.

This agreement was to restore the scale of wages in effect in January, 1896. At that time the Missouri and Illinois company was paying 19½ cents per box. Instead of restoring these prices the company offered the men 18½ cents. The miners refused to accept it and the strike followed.

The men also claim that they have not received a fair share of the rise in price agreed on by the operators at the East St. Louis meeting. This was 25 cents per ton, and the miners claim they were entitled to 10 cents of this. They got only 1 cent.

The strike has the sanction of President O'Connor of the United Mine Workers, and it may spread. About 250 men are out. ment arrived at in East St. Louis Sept. 15.

Fear of damage by fly and chinch bug in latter sections has also prevented plowing an esseding adoubtedly considerable late corn in the more northern sections that could be damaged by heavy frost. The latest weekly crop bulletin of Missouri says that this could be the case in the extreme northern counties of this State, but elsewhere the crop is practically safe. In Northern Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska there is late corn that could be thus damaged, but the percentage is small and by far the greater proportion of the big 1896 crop is made.

Montreal Trade Bulletin says latest private advices on the wheat crop of Manitoba are very discouraging. It is now estimated the entire yield will not amount to 14,000,000 bu, and in quality will rank much below expectations.

He said that James Brockhorn, who was advertised, together with the names of himself and Mrs. A. L. Horn, as being on the Board of Directors, was a fictitious person. His books showed that the association paid out during the period that he was secretary only 489 in sick and death benefits and that the amount of money it had on deposit June 20, 1896, was $175. Horn claims to have 10,000 policy-holders who contribute weekly for his "insurance." a Debelach claims that Horn always reported to him the amounts to record as receipts and expenditures and that Mrs. Horn kept the membership rolls. On his books, bearing the date of May 25, 1896, is an entry of 35 paid to Mrs. Bettle Johnson, 1424 Michigan avenue.
Mrs. Johnson is the poor colored woman whose policy was taken from her when she was dying and only her niece, a little child, was with her in the house. Her daughters claim the Horn outfit never paid anything except to refund 44.25 that had been paid by the family for policies.
Many inaccuracies in Horn's published list of beneficiaries are made apparent by a comparison of the list with Debelach's minutes.

The books show that Sarah Johnson of 1122 Franklin was paid $20 death benefit; the list gives her address at 33 Leonard avenue. Leonard avenue begins at 300. Frannie Cross is mentioned a half dozen times in the minutes as receiving benefits, but her name does not appear in the published list of beneficiaries. Debelach says he does not know, but Horn told him the amounts were paid. As he had deeded a lot to Horn and was putting money into the association to secure a fifth interest, so he claims, he voted against keeping such a chronic claimant on the pay roll, but Horn and his wife outvoted him.

In the course of her talk she gave out the following recipes:

Plain Paste—Cut a half pound of butter into three cups of pastry flour, add a teaspoonful of sait, mix and add two-thirds of a cup of water. Turn out on the board and roll from you, fold and roll again—and again. Stand on the ice until cold.

Lemon Custard—Separate three eggs, add to the yolks one cup of sugar. Beat and add juice and rind of one lemon. Put one table-spoonful of flour in a cup, moisten slowly, mixing until smooth. Then add milk to fill the cup, add this to the other ingredients. Mix and turn into a dish lined with plain paste and bake half an hour.

RELIEF FOR PAUPERS.

An Emergency Bill to Provide Then

The Municipal Assembly will meet Thursday to take immediate action on the ordiance providing temporary quarters for will probably be held Friday and Saturday also, so as to pass the bill as soon as possible. An emergency clause has been inserted, so that the ordinance will go into effect immediately upon its passage.

The actual work of building the temporary quarters has not been commenced, but a good deal has been done in preparation. The female quarters, which were wrecked by the tornado, will be demolished to the first story and then roofed over. The same thing will be done with the hospital, which was also wrecked. The work has commenced, and is almost finished. Connecting these buildings and extending along over the line of the steam heating pipes will be the temporary quarters. They will be in a shed 450 feet long and thirty feet wide. They will be built of ordinary plank and lined inside with heavy paper, very much like the paper used in the houses at quarantine.

The paupers are having a hard time at the Poor-house. There are 500 of them in one small building, which has to be shut up pretty tight at night since it has turned cold, those near the windows being almost drozen and those in the cesser of the room almost smothered. will probably be held Friday and Saturday

Whether Skarsmo is an escaped prisoner or the victim of a practical joke is not known. He was undoubtedly not in his right mind and he was unable to tell the right mind and he was unable to tell the police how the handcuffs came to be on his wrists. The police had the handcuffs taken off and after keeping him for a few hours without inding any reason why he should be longer detained, they turned him loose. Bjornson toid a Post-Dispatch reporter that he has lived in Minneapolls for two years, but has been traveling for three weeks. He is evidently possessed of a delusion that he is being persecuted by a wealthy and beautiful woman of St. Paul. He said that he had been employed as a coachman at the residence of a wealthy young widow in St. Paul, and after working there a few months she fell in love with him and proposed marriage. She got him drunk every night, he said, and he became afraid that his health was failing and left. He admitted taking $300 of the woman's money and going to Minneapolls, where she found him the next day in a hotel. There was a sensational scene in which he knocked her down in his room and left her for dead, taking a train for Chicago. He registered at the Sherman House there and two days afterward he saw the wealthy young widow on the street.

For another year he paid $5 a month trying to cut the bill down. That made $50 more and he found, last April, that he still owed $50.

In June Mr. Lanktree died. The widow was in needy circumstances. The loan company kept pressing her, but she rebelled. They tried her in Justice Haughton's Court and the jury gave a verdict to the money sharks for $50 and costs.

THE CONFERENCE

"MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROAD" POPS RIPE FOR MISCHIEF.

WITH MR. WATSON.

THEIR MEETING WAS SECRET

Watson Is Expected to Issue His Ulti matum in Indianapolis on October 10.

Thomas E. Watson of Georgia and the Populist National Committeemen, who were in conference with him Tuesday, departe Tuesday night.

Candidate Watson and Committeen Reed resumed their journey to the goober fields of Georgia, while Committeeman Washburne returned to Chicago and Com nitteeman Rankin to Indiana.

The only tangible result of the conference was the announcement that Watson would go to Indianapolis about Oct. 10, and in Tom-go to Indianapolis about Oct. 10, and in Tominson Hall, where the gold bolters, Palmer and Buckner, were nominated, would define his position.

The Indianapolis meeting has been arranged by the "Middle-of-the-Road" Populists and Watson is expected to speak for them, as well as for himself.

Watson, Reed, Washburne and Rankin held a secret conference at the Southern Tuesday, which lasted from 3 till 6 o'clock. The fusion on electoral tickets in the Western States between Populists and Democrats was discussed and the four "Middle-of-the-Road" Populists decided that Watson, as the Vice-Presidential candidate of the Populists, was getting the frozen finger.

of the Populists, was getting the frozen finger.

In spite of the fact that these three committeemen represent only a small wing of the Populist National Committee and have no power to do anything, they decided to protest against the way in which the electoral tickets of Kansas, Colorado and other Western States have been made up.

Apparently the object of the conference was to create trouble.

Candidate Watson has been ripe for mischief ever since the news was carried to Thomason, Ga., that he had been nominated for Vice-President.

As for Washburne, Reed and Rankin, they have been "middle of the road" men all the time, although Washburne has been ostensibly acting in good faith towards Bryan and Sewall.

With great condescension the three committeemen and Candidate Watson announced that they would let Mr. Arthur Sewall remain on the Democratic ticket and would issue no manifesto demanding his withdrawal. Then they all went home.

and in active campaign work $72 Democratic free silver clubs.

This is exclusive of the city of St. Louis, where there are now about 100 clubs and others organizing every day.

The other twenty-four countles are also being organized, so that within the next two weeks every county in the State will have anywhere from ten to twenty clubs, each one hard at work for the State and national tickets and the cause of free silver.

St. Louis City, as has heretofore been told, is to be organized by ward precincts and blocks, so that very soon it will be as thoroughly aroused as the rest of the State.

The other twenty-four counties are also being organized, an immense banner, indicative of the position of our party in the present campaign.

All clitzens are invited to attend the raising of the banner. Second—On Oct. 2, at 3 o'clock p. m., a grand parade will be formed on Tweifth street, and move over certain streets in the cannounced hereafter.

All clubs and other organizations and all clitzens supporting Bryan and Sewall or fusion tickets in behalf of the Democratic candidate for the Presidency are requested to Join in the parade.

Information with reference to the parade will be given at the headquarters of the committee.

"Battle Ax" is popular with all parties because of its remarkably fine flavor, its high quality and the low price at which it is sold.

The people of the United States know a good thing when they see it, and they won't pay 10 cents for other high grade tobaccos while they can get "Battle Ax" for 5 cents.

is not averse to wielding a razor herself on occasion.

She and a "ladifren" went into the Morgan street hat store of one Max Kippel Tuesday night and asked to be shown a good Stetson hat for $4 or $6.

"I was so surprised," said Kippel, in detailing the occurrence to Judge Stephenson, "that I couldn't say a word.

"Why don't you answer me, white man? says she, and then I told her plainly I didn't have any. Then she called me vile names and said she was going to cut my risuard out."

"You's a liah," murmured Lulu from the prisoners' dock as Kippel left the stand.

All Lulu's coquetry did not avail her when she gave her version, and as she was led back to the cage under a til fine she looked back at Kippel and said:

"Next time I'll punch yo' ness."
